Soviets Evacuate 4 German Air Fields

Red Planes, Personnel Transferred Elsewhere—'Destination Unknown'

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Air Force has evacuated four important air bases in East Germany, it was confirmed Wednesday night. Allied officers are temporarily baffled at how to analyze the move.

Carried out with startling speed, the withdrawal stripped Soviet airmen and warplanes from fields at Werneuchen, Neupetershain, Finsterwalde and Brand.

-Prisoner Switch- Ominous Warning Sounded

Reds Claim Right To Hold Back Prisoners

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) (AP)—The Allies and the Communists traded prisoners for the ninth time today but Red China's Peiping Radio sounded an ominous warning. The Reds claimed the right under the Geneva Convention to hold back all American and other U. N. captives awaiting trial or already serving sentences.

Seventy-five Americans, 75 British and 250 South Koreans, looking reasonably healthy, returned to freedom in today's exchange.

(Among Americans released by the Communists today was Midwesterner Larry M. Godfrey, Sgt. of Arkansas City, Kan.)

The Peiping broadcast, heard in Tokyo, was the first Communist reaction to U. S. Secretary of State Dulles' warning Tuesday that the U. N. commands would not return Chinese and North Korean captives convicted of crimes "until we know the attitude of the Communists toward ours."

The propaganda broadcast accused Dulles of "blackmail" and asserted:

"... Prisoners of war against whom criminal proceedings for an indictable offense are pending or who have already been convicted... should be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of the Geneva Convention."

Replying to Dulles' contention that withholding of prisoners would violate the armistice agreement, Peiping said "throughout the provisions of the armistice agreement there is not a single point which approximates the American claim. On the contrary this claim is in contravention of the Geneva Convention."

(In Washington State Department officials pointed out that while the Geneva Convention has certain complicated provisions regarding the retention of prisoners of war, the armistice agreement signed with the Communists overrides them. The officials also noted that neither the United States nor the Korean and Chinese Communists are signatories of the convention, but had agreed to abide by it.)

"The armistice agreement provides for a clear cut agreement that all prisoners be returned," one official said. "The Communists are trying something to justify their intention to violate the agreement."

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander, estimated recently that possibly 2,000 to 3,000 American prisoners were being held back by the Reds.

The first American soldier returned in Wednesday's exchange was Pfc. Clyde D. Boothe, U. S. Third Division, of Brownsville, Pa.

The first of the repatriates already had landed in the United States. Seventeen seriously ill men in an Air Force transport landed Wednesday at Travis Air Base in California. Another 328 healthy repatriates sailed for home Tuesday on the transport Gen. Nelson M. Walker.

Boystown, Korea Open For Business In Seoul

SEOUL (AP)—Boystown, Korea, a settlement for warward boys modeled after Boystown, Neb., was opened formally here Wednesday.

American service men contributed much of the money needed to develop the project. One outfit, the 5th Regimental Combat Team, raised $18,000.

The settlement is on Ranti Island in the Han River near here.

Doctor Offers $200,000 For Polk Hospital

OSCEOLA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—A once-in-a-lifetime offer was made Tuesday to proponents of a Polk County Hospital by Dr. Charles W. Jeffrey, 71, a practicing physician at Rawlins, Wyo. To assure success and realization of a county hospital, Dr. Jeffrey, born and reared in Osceola, proposed that following approval of a $200,000 bond issue in the regular county election, the doctor will buy the entire issue. He made the following provisions: Dr. Jeffrey will draw interest at the nominal rate until his death and the hospital will be made as a memorial to his mother whose home was in Osceola. Dr. Jeffrey has agreed never to present the principal of the bonds for collection. Upon his death, the $200,000 will revert to Polk County. (This means no payment will ever be made on the lump sum, making it an outright gift.)

NEBRASKA FARMERS AND HELLS CANYON

Marquis Childs, in a penetrating column on The Star's editorial page today, clearly describes the stake that farmers have in the final reckoning on the Hells Canyon dam issue. What it means to the future of Nebraska is, therefore, one of the most critical problems facing the state at the present time.

The current dispute over the hiring of engineering services for the construction of the city's $8.5 million water works improvement program had its beginning just about one year ago today. At that time, the City Council was considering the hiring of Black & Veatch, Kansas City, Mo., engineers, for the preparation of a preliminary and final report on a water expansion program for the city. It was proposed to the council, however, that Black & Veatch be hired at the same time for all the engineering services involved in carrying out the expansion. While recommended by the Water Advisory Board and the city engineer, the council balked at the contract. The engineering service fees would have involved about $250,000. The council finally hired Black & Veatch for preparation of the plans only and left the engineering ing service issue for a later date. City Councilman Pat Ash, who has plugged for the employment of local engineering firms, stated that no consideration has ever been given local engineering firms.

ers, said Ash, there were either no answers or evasive answers. With no answers to his questions up to several days before the council was to vote on engineering service contracts, Ash enlisted the help of Mayor Clark Jeary to gather his own answers. Jeary obtained bids from Fulton & Cramer of Lincoln on certain phases of the engineering work involved while Ash obtained commitments from Hoskins & Associates of Lincoln. Contracts were not awarded, however on the basis of low bids. In no single case, four projects totaling $101,070 in fees, was the low bid accepted. Ash reported he voted with the rest of the council only to make the contract award unanimous. While not satisfied, Ash stated that he knew there were at least four votes for the higher bids recommended by the engineering department. Councilman Rees Wilkinson's answer to a requested explanation of his vote for the higher bids was "no comment."

Councilman Chauncey W. D. Kinsey gave the same "no comment" reply to a requested explanation of his vote. Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme stated that she was influenced by the recommendations of the board and the engineering department. She also pointed out that the city has not always taken the lowest bid but rather, what it considered the best bid.

The name of a nationally known engineering firm connected with the improvement program, said Mrs. Orme, may influence the interest rate obtained from bond buyers on the bonds issued to finance the improvement but "I wouldn't say it was a necessity" to hire such a firm.

Councilman Hugh Thorne stated he voted for the contracts on the same basis as Ash. Thorne stated he wanted the decision to be unanimous but felt that all engineering firms should have been given an equal opportunity to come in and offer a proposal on the projects involved.

'No-Raid' Pact With CIO Brings Action

Executive Council Drops Hutcheson As A Vice President; Others Move Up A Notch

CHICAGO (AP)—The 600,000-member Brotherhood of Carpenters Wednesday withdrew from the American Federation of Labor.

The carpenters, one of the AFL's founding unions, quit the AFL ranks in an angry protest against the AFL Executive Council approving a "no-raiding" agreement with the CIO.

The council earlier had approved the "no-raiding" agreement designed to prohibit one union from seeking to take over membership of another union in a rival federation.

Notice of the carpenters' withdrawal from the AFL was served by carpenters' union president, Maurice A. Hutcheson, in a letter to M. A. Hutcheson AFL President George Meany. Meany, in making the letter public, said that the Executive Council on receiving the carpenters' withdrawal notice, had advanced other AFL vice presidents up a notch.

This means that the council considers that William L. Hutcheson, father of the president of the carpenters' president, and former head himself of the carpenters' union, is no longer the first vice president of the AFL.

All Executive Council members are AFL vice presidents. The AFL considers that the carpenters' withdrawal meant the withdrawal too of Executive Council member Hutcheson and that all other AFL vice presidents would advance in line.

Meany said that the vacancy thus caused in the 13th vice presidency would be filled by selection of someone else at the present Executive Council meeting due to end Friday.

Carpenters' union president, Maurice Hutcheson, said in his letter to Meany that the union was immediately discontinuing its payment of per capita dues to the AFL.

In announcing its approval of the "no raiding" pact negotiated with the CIO, the council said it also was working on a plan to control fights between rival AFL unions. It was hoped the formula for ending intra-AFL rivalries would be ready for the AFL convention meeting next month in St. Louis.

The council approved the "no raiding agreement" earlier Wednesday and the carpenters' union action quickly followed.

Office And Desk Without Occupant

Wednesday his office and desk were vacated and window shades were drawn awaiting the arrival of Parr Young, Nebraska man appointed to the position. State offices of the Production and Marketing Administration in Lincoln were without top-level guidance Wednesday.

Absent—with leave—were members of the state committee of the administration. Requested to resign by the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, outgoing committee members Frank Reed, Ralph Hanks and Arlie L. Johnson spent their last day in office Tuesday.

New members of the committee, now headed by Parr Young of Nebraska who was appointed by Benson, were not due in the office until sometime Thursday. But office personnel were apparently in the dark on the day between committees as to what was to come.

No New Plans
"All we know is what we read in the papers," one employee said. "We haven't heard anything from Washington. We haven't heard anything from Young."

Meanwhile, Young said in Nebraska he was scheduled to meet Joseph W. Clifton, an official from PMA Washington headquarters, at 8 a.m. Thursday in the Lincoln Hotel. Arrangements would be made then, he said, to take over the Nebraska headquarters.

Young told The Star he had no new plans for PMA administration at the present time. He indicated that he wanted to hold office for awhile before making any great changes.

"I've got a lot to learn," Young said when asked how his policies would differ from those of ex-Chairman Reed.

He discounted any thought that the abrupt change in committee membership would make any difference in administration of Friday's farmer vote on price supports and acreage allotments.

"It wouldn't make any difference," Young said, "even if I wanted it to."

The old committee members were forced to resign by Secretary Benson reportedly because they were appointed under

2 Island Cities Are Erased

Ancient Ionian Sea Towns Battered; Fear Hundreds Are Dead

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Two Ionian Sea island cities of ancient Greek memory were wiped out Wednesday by a series of nine new earthquakes that rocked and devastated three whole islands.

The destroyed cities were Argostolion, population 10,000, and Zakynthos, 11,315.

Flames in the wake of the quakes that began Sunday consumed what was left of Zakynthos. A member of Parliament, Kostas Vouloutsos of Zakynthos, reported the ruin of his home city late Wednesday night in a radiogram from there.

Reports from the three wrecked islands of Ithaca, Kefallinia and Zakynthos said around 120,000 persons were left without shelter.

The U.S. embassy sent its air attaché on an air tour of the stricken islands during the day and reported to the State Department in Washington "the enormity of the tragedy."

The United States, Britain and other foreign countries rushed to aid the Greek government in rescue work.

Messages were sent to Gen. David M. Schlatter, acting chief of the NATO Southern Command, and to the U.S. 6th Fleet advising of the needs for help.

Reports to Athens said the earth shocks extended from the stricken west coast islands as far as Lamia in central Greece, but no damage was reported inland.

Up to a late hour Wednesday night there were no official estimates of casualties in the new wave of quakes. Unofficially, observers said the dead would total in the hundreds.

Many of the rescued stepped across the centuries on their arrival on the Greek mainland, never before having been away from the islands their ancestors settled and fought over.

Names Of Yanks Reported Dead To Be Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—A list of 120 Americans reported by the Reds to have died in enemy captivity in Korea will be made available by the Pentagon around noon Thursday for newspaper use at 5 p.m. CST.

Additional names will be supplied to the press as rapidly as the process of notification can be completed for all of the 1,022 U.S. servicemen reported by the enemy to be dead and the 147 reported to have escaped from Communist prison camps.

Simmons Spends A Busy Week In Pakistan

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court and Mrs. Simmons spent a busy week visiting law organizations and governmental agencies in the North-West Frontier Province of Pakistan.

Mohammed Ali, advocate general of the province, was their host during their tour of the province.

Ali, who spent a week in Lincoln last spring, reports on the Simmons' visit to his homeland.

While visiting the summer capital at Nathiagali, the Simmons were luncheon guests of Mian Jaffer Shah, minister for education. All top-ranking secretaries to the government and heads of departments were present, Ali said.

The learned judge made a beautiful speech in which he strongly urged a cultural friendship between the peoples of the two countries, Ali writes.

Judge Simmons visited the chief justice of the North-West Frontier Province High Court, courts of the district judge, senior civil judge and a magistrate at Abbottabad, the advocate-general's home-town.

Mrs. Simmons, accompanied by Mrs. Ali, visited the Girls High School where a folk dancing program was presented in her honor.

The Simmons were guests of Mohammad Shafi, judge of the high courts, at a luncheon and were honored by the Bar Association. Judge Simmons spoke on the duties of lawyers to their clients at the Bar meeting.

Abdul Hamid Khan, commissioner of the Azad Kashmir government, invited the Simmons to be his special guests at governmental headquarters at Muzaffarabad.

Judge Simmons met high officers of the Azad Kashmir government and members of the Bar Association. He spoke to them of the origin of laws.

The Simmons were given an opportunity to see more of Pakistan on a trip to Khyber Pass and Tor Kham, last outpost of the country.

They visited Peshawar, capital of the province, where Ali reports that a reception given by the Premier Bar Association of the province, "the learned judge made a fervent appeal for a cultural contact between U. S. A. and Pakistan."

The Simmons left Pakistan on July 29 to continue a lecture tour in India. The Nebraska judge is making the trip under U. S. government sponsorship to exchange ideas of law problems and practices in Pakistan, India and Ceylon.

Country Road Accidents Increasing In Nebraska, Col. Sanders Reports

Accidents on county roads have increased greatly over last year, Col. C. J. Sanders of the State Highway Patrol said Wednesday.

He reported that four persons have been killed in four county-road accidents since Aug. 1. There were 12 persons killed in nine accidents on county roads in July, he said.

He attributed many accidents to persons feeling they are the only ones on the road. These persons, he said, tend to drive down the center.

Col. Saunders warned that persons should drive slower in loose gravel than on hard-surfaced roads.

He said blind intersections on county roads also affect the high accident rate.

The four persons killed in August on county roads were: Carter Ganz, two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ganz of Alvo, near Alvo, Aug. 6.

Clyde A. Edwards of Lexington, south of Lexington, Aug. 9.

Stanley Halsey of Clay Center, east of Dunnington, Aug. 10.

Mrs. Lawrence Long of Shubert, northwest of Falls City, Aug. 11.

REA Semi-Annual State Meeting Is Scheduled Here

Nebraska rural public power leaders and their wives will gather in Lincoln Thursday for the semi-annual meeting of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association.

Registration will open at 8 a.m. on the mezzanine of the Cornhusker Hotel. President Dale Erlwine of Ogallala will preside at the first men's meeting at 10 a.m.

The women will meet for a noon luncheon in the Persian Room. Mrs. Erlwine and Mrs. John M. Clema of Lincoln are co-chairmen.

A new National Rural Electric Co-operative Association director for Nebraska will be elected by the men. Ernest Sjoren of Axtell, present director, will present his report at the meeting.

Two of the new wells were drilled in University Place and a third one at Sumner and Memorial Dr. They are expected to give the city an additional 3 million gallons of water per day.

Fisher stated, however, that the cooler weather has materially diminished the demand for water. Existing local wells, he said, have even been shut down to conserve the underground source of supply.

It was pointed out by Fisher that the local wells are not used unless the city is unable to meet water demands from Ashland alone. When used too extensively, the local wells may run dry or become salty.

Standard Gasolines, desert tested to assure

NO VAPOR LOCK!

Standard's gasoline improvement stops big summer driving nuisance

In summer some gasolines actually "boil." Bubbles of vapor form in your fuel lines. Your engine chokes, sputters, goes dead. You're a victim of vapor lock. But not if you use Standard Gasolines. On the hot Mojave Desert, Standard scientists tested hundreds of blends of gasoline. They studied the cause—certain extralight molecules. And they found the cure—remove them from summer gasoline and save them for fast-starting winter gas. From these tests come Standard's great no-vapor-lock summer gasolines.

TEST UNIT

STANDARD SCIENTISTS BEAT VAPOR LOCK ON BLISTERING MOJAVE DESERT

Standard gasolines have been exhaustively tested under torrid desert conditions to assure you trouble-free summer performance. Only Standard says, "NOW—no vapor lock!" No vapor lock... on top of octane ratings that correctly match your car's requirements... on top of gasolines with catalytically-cracked molecules perfectly blended and balanced to give you the best possible combination of pick-up, power and mileage. And where ever you drive in the Midwest, at home or on the road, you'll find the same improved and guarded quality. You'll find, too, the famous SERVICE that car owners describe as the finest treatment they get anywhere. Try Standard WHITE CROWN Premium or Standard RED CROWN Gasoline. Your first hot-day drive will prove that you can expect more from Standard... and get it!

Help Others Is Goal Of Lincoln Visitor

By MARILYN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

To help others as she has been helped is the goal of a petite 21-year-old beauty from Colombia, South America.

Because she is "so thankful I'm not a cripple," Carmen Uribe will take a two-year physical therapy course at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and then return to her native country to work with polio patients.

Carmen's English is limited—so her hostess in Lincoln, Mrs. Walter Hammond of 4015 L, explained that physical therapy is new in Colombia and there is no one in the country trained in the field.

Her own polio attack happened when Carmen was three. "At that time in Colombia," Mrs. Hammond interspersed, "no doctor would handle a polio patient."

Met In Mountains
Carmen's mother massaged her stricken daughter's legs every day for the next eight years.

Then, when Carmen was 11, Walter Hammond, working with the Defense Department on a search for minerals in Colombia, met the girl and her family in their remote mountain home. He believed there was a chance that she might walk again.

Because of the war, Hammond had to make a personal appeal to President Franklin D. Roosevelt to slash red tape so the girl could be admitted to this country for treatment at Warm Springs, Ga.

Six months and seven operations later, Carmen was walking.

Hammond is now Carmen's "seconda papa" (second father) and Mrs. Hammond is "seconda mama."

'Implicit Faith'
"She has implicit faith in her second father, Mrs. Hammond added.

Asked if she was worried about the Mayo course, Carmen replied, "I'm not afraid. I want to learn everything—English, physical therapy—everything."

After the Colombian girl was aided by the U. S., her own government provided Carmen with a university education in a "bread upon the waters" action. Miss Uribe studied bacteriology for three years and has been working in a hospital in Bogotá—Colombia's capital city—for the past year. In addition to her studies at Mayo, Carmen will also be working at the clinic to earn her expenses.

Condemnation Started To Buy Land For NU

The University of Nebraska started negotiating two weeks ago to condemn a 30-foot lot on the west side of North 15th between S and T.

Acting Chancellor John K. Selleck said the University has been buying private property in the area for several years and this is only the "second or third" time it has been necessary to condemn a lot in order to acquire it.

Academic buildings will be built in the area in the next two or three years, Selleck said. Definite plans for the buildings have not yet been developed.

MEEK KILLERS GIVE UP AFTER FOUR-DAY HUNT

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Facing soldiers' rifles, two men hunted as desperate killers gave their pistols to a hostage Wednesday and surrendered meekly to answer charges of murdering a federal officer.

The men and their captive had lived through four days and nights, hungry, thirsty and miserable in a bush-shrouded ditch from which they were afraid to flee because of searching planes and prowling possums.

Herbert Juelich, 25, and Lewis Larson, 31, two longtime law-breakers from St. Paul, Minn., actually ventured only about two miles on foot into the northwest Georgia hills after abandoning a stolen car near Adairsville, Ga., Saturday afternoon.

Forced at pistol point to accompany them was George Hightower of Nashville, Tenn., deputized as a special guard to help Sam Vaughn, a U.S. deputy marshal from Murfreesboro, Tenn., to drive the two men from Nashville to Atlanta's federal penitentiary to start serving five-year auto theft sentences.

Vaughn, 54-year-old father of 13 children, was killed by five bullets from his own pistol as the party drove along a highway near Adairsville. His body was kicked from the car.

A farmer saw the body dumped and spread the alarm that set off the biggest manhunt this area had seen.

Wednesday, a squad of Guardsmen had almost worked its way past a small thicket when Hightower, a gaunt, unshaven figure stepped out and called:

"We give up! We give up!" After preliminary questioning at Cartersville, the pair was taken to Rome, where they waived a preliminary hearing before U.S. Commissioner Rowell Stanton, who ordered them held without bond on charges of the murder of Vaughn.

Carmen Chats With 'Second Mother'

ten years ago because of Hammond's interest in her case, is visiting her "segundo papa and mama" in Lincoln prior to enrolling in a two-year physical therapy training course at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. (Star Photo)

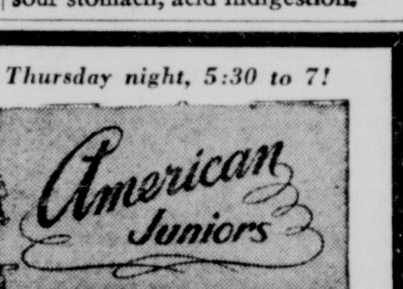

Carmen is reminiscent of an Australian girl who also devoted her life to aiding those afflicted with polio. However, the attractive South American had never heard of Sister Mary Kenney and said her work was not known in Colombia.

Although she has difficulty expressing herself in English and relies heavily upon her Spanish-English dictionary, Miss Uribe was amused by the difficulties Americans have been having with the spelling of her name. The correct Spanish title is Carmen Uribe A. The capital "A" stands for her mother's maiden name. Her mother is known as Leticia de Uribe A. "No need for the 'A' here," Carmen laughed.

She will remain in Lincoln, where the "people are so kind," until Sept. 1 when the Ham-

Wardner Scott Resigns

Wardner Scott is a useful citizen of this community. He has given freely and generously of his time, his energies, and of his outstanding technical competence as an engineer to matters of civic concern.

Since its inception, Mr. Scott has served as vice chairman of Lincoln's City Planning Commission and also as a member of a group created by the Lincoln City Council to handle the delicate negotiations involving bus service in Lincoln. Those jobs, which are in their nature thankless, take a lot of time. When people accept them, they do so in full knowledge that acceptance involves personal sacrifice.

Mr. Scott has tendered his resignation from both posts to Mayor Clark Jeary. In answer to an inquiry by a reporter as to his reasons for his action, Mr. Scott declined comment. Whatever the reason or reasons, we are quite sure that Mr. Scott arrived at his decision only after deliberate thought.

He is not given to impulsiveness.

And his decision to quit two important city groups is a real loss to the work of those groups.

Again, The Cornfields

Once more we turn off the country road and down the long lane leading to the farmhouse. Today there is no pattern of recent rain in the dusty tracks of our footprints...

In the farmyard itself there is great excitement. County fair begins tomorrow and there is a 4-H calf to be groomed and trucked away to compete with other calves led proudly by other eager youngsters...

"Twinkle" is brought from the barn for our inspection. Before she is pronounced ready, she will be bathed in trenchant black-and-whiteness, hair clipped and brushed, knees bleached, tiny horns sanded and polished—a fitting companion in sartorial splendor for the bright-eyed little girl who will show her, clad in new jeans and T-shirt for the occasion...

We turn our attention, then, to the sweet corn patch. Our companion is a man who is at home in a field. He tests ears swiftly, expertly, passing those too young, too mature, snapping swiftly the succulent ears which meet his test...

Basket full, he looks beyond at the field corn, inquires if we'd care to walk down a ways to see it. A three-legged dog romps joyfully ahead of us. A meadowlark on a nearby fencepost bursts into full-throated approval of the day at hand, and the air is sweet with the scent of the field...

A glow comes into our companion's eyes as we approach the tall rows laden with ears hanging heavy already from their own weight. For three score years and more this man has been walking down this same road "to see the corn"—and every year the miracle is new to him...

He strides unhesitatingly through sandbars

Of Men And Things

The news columns Wednesday morning described a small cloud which has appeared in the industrial skies—a cloud which had its origin out on the farm. There has been a slackening of pace in the manufacturing end of the farm industry—a slackening resulting in layoffs and payless paydays for thousands of factory workers.

A survey of some of the giants in the field of farm equipment production revealed the reduction in working forces, a temporary development, we trust. Some blamed drought, others pointed to a moderate decline for a number of months, and still others mentioned the drop in farm income. Readjustments from time to time are inevitable but one thing that has happened in recent months should receive attention. In the criticism of the farm program which took shape under 20 years of Democratic administration, a criticism in which Secretary of Agriculture Benson has been the most voluble, articulate spokesman, there has been little attention given to the closely-knit relationship between a prosperous agriculture and prosperous industry. It has been too much each man for himself. This talk of the farmer standing on his own feet, free from interference by government, carving his own destiny, is a throwback to the years when farm people faced ruin and bankruptcy. That took place in the late 'twenties and the early 'thirties, less than 25 years ago. Yet its painful lesson seems to have been forgotten.

The great trouble with Secretary Benson and with the Eisenhower administration in the field of agriculture is that they do not like farm practices of the last 20 years but thus far they have not achieved a genuine program of their own as a substitute. There is the promise from Mr. Benson that in his opposition to the price support program on the basis of 90 per cent of parity, he will have a clear-cut definite proposal to offer before too many months. In the interval of waiting, it is to be hoped that the price to be paid by the farmer is not too much.

It would be well, however, for some of the top men on Ike's team to drop their criticism of the past long enough to review in dispassionate spirit one broad, sound principle of American prosperity which has nothing whatever to do with politics. The economy of this country has become terribly complex. It is impossible to drop a pebble at any given point without a ripple of its fall appearing hundreds or thousands of miles away. What affects one affects all of us. When misfortune comes to one class or one group of citizens, it extends its effects to all groups. We march forward shoulder to shoulder—usually retreat when one powerful section of the United States gets the notion that its interests are of chief concern. On the domestic side, the Eisenhower administration has been listening entirely too much to a type of industrial leadership that led the United States into the shadows not too many years ago.

There is nothing new in the talk which Republican leadership has engaged in recently in connection with agriculture. They are going to lead farmers into producing other crops in which surpluses do not exist. Perhaps farmers produce the crops that they do because factors of soil and climate give them no other choice. The Republicans promise new uses for farm products. In their criticism of the program which they dislike, they also have been doing that for years but the new markets never actually put in an appearance.

'Fancy Dan Admirals' Now Are Riding High

WASHINGTON—Two great

Army officers with a long record of public service retired today. With their retirement may come a drastic change in military policy.

If I were to try to put my finger on the chief qualities of Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. Joe Lawton Collins in their work as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and as Army chief of staff, I would summarize it:

Though great military men they are civilian-minded. Though great combat soldiers the thing they hate most is to see men die. Though they dislike disagreement, they champion the right of others to disagree. Though trained to fight wars, they leaned over backward to prevent war.

In these days when Russia probably has the H-bomb and when wars can come at the drop of a hat, these qualities are vitally important.

Unfortunately the man who replaces Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, Adm. Arthur Radford, has not always shown these same qualities.

And with the President of the United States having ordered the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at the recent Quantico conference, to bring him only unanimous decisions, the personality of the new chairman can influence the lives of millions.

Furthermore, the instruction of President Eisenhower that he wants no disagreement from his Joint Chiefs is one of the most important—and sobering—statements the new President has ever made. For it is the constitutional duty of the President as commander-in-chief to get all points of view among his military advisers, to review their agreements and disagreements, then make up his own mind.

NOTE—Gens. Bradley and Collins had sat through plenty of tough debates on the Joint Chiefs of Staff and have not hesitated to tell their commander-in-chief that they could not agree. Usually Bradley and Collins have agreed as between each other. But they have frequently disagreed with the Navy over the importance of Formosa, the use of Chiang Kai-shek's troops in Korea, or the use of super-airplane carriers against B-36's.

There are two types of officers among the top brass of the Pentagon: 1—The humble, civilian-type, GI-type officer; 2—The aggressive, politically-minded officer who likes to barge into the civilian field of government.

Bradley and Collins belong in the first group. Joe Collins won fame as the general who captured one of the most difficult cities in the Normandy invasion—Cherbourg. He is one of the few Pentagon officers upon whose desk you will find a Bible. As head of the Army's Instruction and Education Division, he pushed the betterment of the enlisted man. Consistently he has preached the idea that the backbone of the Army is its non-coms and junior officers.

Omar Bradley is so mild-mannered you wonder how he could ever order troops into battle. Yet it was he who handled the combat strategy for Eisenhower during the historic invasion of France and Germany. And while the much-publicized Field Marshal Montgomery was still sitting at Caen near the Normandy coast, Brad-

Hells Canyon Issue Directly Affects Prosperity Of Farmers In Nebraska

WASHINGTON—As the prices of the things the farmer has to sell continue to go down while the prices of many of the things he buys go up, the political pressure to "solve" the farm problem increases. It is perhaps the biggest domestic worry of an administration that professes to believe in free enterprise without resort to government props to hold up prosperity.

With farming in America becoming more and more mechanized, what the farmer must pay for his tractor, his gasoline, his electric power has more and more to do with whether his books show a profit or loss at the end of the year. This is one reason why the controversy over the Hells Canyon dam site in Idaho cuts much deeper than is generally understood.

The dispute was touched off when Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay withdrew the Department's objection to granting the Idaho Power Co. the right to develop a part of the site. Those who have been protesting most loudly before the Federal Power Commission are spokesmen for public power in the Northwest favoring the big hydro-electric-irrigation project proposed by the Truman administration.

In hearings now temporarily suspended, they argued that only through full scale government development could low cost power be obtained for the region.

They insisted that a federal dam was an essential part of the great Columbia River system which has meant rapid expansion of the Northwest. On the other side spokesmen for the private company argued that the job could be done just as well by them with a great saving to the taxpayer. But the interest in a volume ley was romping up to the Rhine.

Bradley's only real differences with Eisenhower were:

1—When Ike diverted gasoline and men away from both Patton and Bradley to Montgomery at a time when Bradley and Patton were convinced they could have penetrated Germany and won the war before Christmas.

2—When Ike wanted to run for President in 1948, Bradley, as one of his oldest friends, helped argue him out of it, told him politics was no place for a military man, that he would be a fish out of water. Ike listened in '48. Bradley got no chance to talk in '52.

The man who succeeds Omar Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff literally talked his way into his job. When the President-elect was en route to Korea last December, the plane stopped for one hour in Iwo Jima to refuel. During that hour, redheaded Adm. Arthur Radford took him on a leg-stretching work-out around the island during which he talked brilliantly about using Chiang Kai-shek's Navy against the China mainland, about using Chiang's troops in Korea.

At the end of that hour, Ike said to his pilot: "Can't we make room for Adm. Radford on the plane?"

After that, the stormy petrel of the Navy was as good as in.

Prior to this, however, the new chairman of the Joint Chiefs was in Washington's doghouse. He had been transferred to the mid-Pacific to get him away from the stormiest cat-and-dog fight the Armed Forces had ever staged.

Sore at unification, irate over the increasing importance of the long-range bomber, the admirals organized a secret propaganda agency, Operation 23, to smear the Air Force. And Radford himself circulated a secret statement, later made public, criticizing his superior, Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. Included in the smear was Secretary for Air Synington and his determination to push the long-range B-36 bomber as against airplane carriers.

It was probably the smelliest, most acrimonious inter-service feud in history, and the chief backstage commander of the Navy's battle strategy was the man who now becomes chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Seldom has an officer in uniform challenged civilian authority more brazenly than Adm. Radford in the summer of 1949. He was relegated to the Pacific as a result.

He was so brazen in his challenge of civilian authority that mild-mannered Omar Bradley, who does not have a low boiling point, went before Congress and made his famous "fancy dan admirals" statement about the most vigorous public criticism he's ever voiced.

These are the two men who change places today.

It should be noted that Gen. Nate Twining, chief of the Air Force, and Gen. Matt Ridgway, Army chief of staff, are both conscientious civilian-minded generals who believe in teamwork, not fireworks. However, with President Eisenhower demanding unanimous decisions, and with the brilliant, aggressive, talkative Adm. Radford as chairman, the Joint Chiefs are likely either to function his way or fall to pieces altogether.

Mailman Has A Pal On His Rounds

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

There is a 7-year-old girl on Apple Street who has taken up the cry for increased postal service—and she's not worried about the expense.

This gal wants to see the mailman deliver on Sundays.

Every Sunday she walks down the block from her residence at 3727 Apple to 35th and Apple at the relay mail box to wait for the mailman who never comes.

She stands around the box from 7:45 a.m. until about 10 a.m. Then feeling the situation is hopeless, she fretfully returns home.

But Monday through Saturday, Boots, a black and white water Springer Spaniel owned by Lyle Welch, follows her mailman, Frank Novak of 2401 P, joyfully on his mail route.

When Frank picked up his mail bag three years ago for his first day's work, he also picked up Boots on the corner of 35th. She has faithfully tagged along on the 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. route walk almost every day. Novak claims she knows the route better than he does.

"Whenever she misses the route, I'm kinda lost without her," the lanky postman says, patting the upturned head of Boots. He calls her "my good old buddy."

How the walking dog on Apple Street ever learned to like walking all that distance is a mystery to Novak. But he found that she had been following the mailman who delivered the route before he came on.

This summer has been a hot one for both Boots and her walking pal. Novak is a little envious of the dog's solution to the heat problem. Every time they come to a home with a sprinkler turned on, Boots jumps into the path of the cool spray while the perspiring mailman looks on.

Outside of this pleasant diversion, the dog is never more than two or three feet away from her companion. Never—well, hardly ever. Her main fault and only one Novak can find is chasing that nemesis of dogs—the cat.

Every one on the route likes Boots, the 49-year-old mailman asserts. There was even one woman who left her after-dinner bones in the mailbox for Boots.

Shagging after the mailman for six hours can put a crimp in any dog's stomach. Boots well knows this, so she strategically places her bones at the different relay boxes on the route. When Novak stops to load up, the Spaniel takes time out for a gnaw on a bone.

It's a rare day that Welch's walker misses meeting Novak on the route. Frequently, when one of these occasions comes along, Novak will start out delivering, perhaps a bit lonely, only to find a happy Boots bounding up to him half way through his route.

The canine also serves as protector of the U.S. mail. Any stray dog with designs on Novak's ankle or pants leg will do well to keep his proper distance. Boots' shaggy body shows she has more than a growl with which to defend her postman.

You'll find that all I had to leave

ED REED

The glitter of this promise appeals to farmers who have seen farm prices drop for the past year and a half. With intensive cultivation, spurred by the demands of World War II, minerals are mined out of the soil and the fertilizer bill becomes an increasingly important item in the farmer's cost of production. It is essential to repair the damage of erosion and the constant loss of top soil.

James Patton, president of the National Farmers Union testifying for the government development, argued that phosphate reserves in Florida and Tennessee would soon be exhausted under present demand and the western phosphates would have to be shipped east. Farm Bureau spokesmen in their testimony spoke of the need for low-cost power for fertilizer development but they did not oppose the application of the private company to develop three smaller dams at the Hells Canyon site.

In high prosperity such as farmers enjoyed during and immediately after the war and with the skyrocketing of prices after the Korean conflict began, this might be dismissed as a political factor. But today it is one of the pieces of the farm puzzle and it cannot be ignored. If the price drop continues, as it seems likely to do, there will be an ever-growing awareness in the farm states of the squeeze in which the farmer is caught.

The timing here is interesting. The Federal Power Commission is not likely to rule on the Hells Canyon case before the first of next year. That will throw the decision, which seems certain to favor the private company, right into next year's election campaign.

One Summer Evening On The Front Porch

There was a little breeze tickling the leaves and making them shiver, and the quiet evening sounds of the neighborhood tipped toed along the street.

"The Johnsons are modernizing their house," said Mrs. F., moving a little in her chair, dropping the sentence comfortably into the dusk.

There wasn't any hurry about answering, so I watched the last blush of light in the west, left behind by the sunset, and listened to a bird somewhere in the trees, saying good night to the day.

"That's nice," I said. Over the porch rail, Mrs. F. watched the girl across the street come out of her house and get into a car, while a young man held the door open for her. Their laughter hung in the air after they were gone, and seemed to make the street lights softer.

"They make a nice couple," Mrs. F. said, and scratched a Daachshund's ears.

"Uh-huh," I grunted. We were silent for a while, feeling the summer air soft around us, and hearing the children somewhere inside the house.

"I like porches," I said.

"Uh huh," said Mrs. F. "Let's keep ours, shall we?" I think we will.

Chinese Used Marijuana To Bribe Yankee Prisoners To Spy

FRESDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Thursday (AP)—A returned U. S. soldier said Wednesday that Chinese captors sometimes bribed Americans with marijuana to get them to spy on their comrades in prison camps.

Most of the returning Americans bitterly denounced fellow prisoners who switched coats, turned pro-Communist and spied for Red camp bosses.

Another told of Allied airmen held in a "mystery" camp and their names never listed by Communist authorities.

Secretary of the Army Stevens, completing a tour of Korea, heard many of the stories. He promised a thorough investigation of the spy complaints and said "every conceivable effort" would be made to get back every U. S. prisoner.

List Gathered

Army authorities were getting a list of alleged pro-Communist Americans and those accused of spying. The returning Americans said they were eager to testify against the accused at courts-martial.

Pfc. Robert Chyers of Steele, Mo., said an American who was returned Wednesday "ratted" to the Chinese who would pay him off in marijuana. He said he got 42 days in solitary because the informer "told the Chinese I was planning to kill Chinese."

"He is not a Pro (Progressive). He is a rat. He is in this group right here. Last night at Kaesong (where returning Allied prisoners are assembled) he was afraid to come into our room."

Pfc. John Powazi of New York City said an informer tipped off the Chinese to a food board he and six others had hidden for an escape attempt. He was forced this way to sign a pledge he would not try to escape again:

"They took me to a room and sat me across a table from a Chinese officer. He took out his .38 revolver and took all the bullets out except one. Then he looked at me across the table, put the gun under the table and pulled the trigger."

"I did not say anything. I was sitting it out. He pulled the trigger again and then I said I would sign."

Pfc. Laurence A. Rix of Dowagiac, Mich., said an informer broke up his escape plans. He was not turning the informer's name over to the Army, adding grimly: "I would just as soon handle it my way."

Buddy Killed

Pfc. Joe E. Allen of Kilbourn, La., was just as bitter at the "Progressives," the derisive name given by prisoners to the pro-Communists. He declared: "I better never get ahead of them."

"Because of them, my buddy who tried to escape with me is dead. Because of them, an American soldier just got a year's prison sentence on a fake charge and won't be coming home. Because of them, I spent plenty of time in a dungeon hole and at hard labor."

Allen said his buddy died in the dungeon and the Chinese tried to say that rats killed him, adding: "Some dirty rat killed him, but it wasn't a four-legged rat."

Cpl. William H. Abbott of Jerusalem, O., said some airmen at his camp were segregated in a "mystery company" and never were listed by the Chinese in information turned over to the Allies. There have been previous reports that airmen were singled out for harsher treatment.

Another death march story was added to those already told by Americans previously returned.

Cpl. James E. Gravit of Colorado Springs said he was taken on a death march after his capture in January of 1951 in which only 150 out of 700 survived. The rest, he reported, died of hunger, exposure, were bayoneted or were pushed off cliffs.

TOWN TALK

TOWN TALK this morning involves one of our favorite residents who has decided to pull up stakes and move away — She is Mrs. Clara McNish who plans to leave about Sept. 1 for Sidney where her son, Hammond McNish, now resides—Mrs. McNish tells us that she is in the process of building a new house in Sidney, and although it probably won't be ready for occupancy until around the holidays, she will have the fun of watching it grow—

And of course there are numerous farewell courtesies for Mrs. McNish—One of them is the luncheon today for which Mrs. Harold Mattoon will be hostess at her home, and to which she has invited a guest foursome.

REMEMBER the Sloan Culvers —Mr. and Mrs.—and their children, Bill and Nancy, who resided in Lincoln eight or nine—maybe ten years ago? If you do you will remember that the Culver family moved to Appleton, Wis. Well—Mr. and Mrs. Culver arrived in Lincoln Tuesday evening and are spending a few days here as the guests of Mrs. Joseph Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Evar Anderson. They are en route to Appleton from San Diego where they have been visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Sloan—and where they were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Nancy Culver—

However Miss Culver is catering in Chicago these days and planned back there at the end of her vacation period.

COMPLIMENTING Mr. and Mrs. Culver at dinner Wednesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson who also included other former Lincoln residents in their guest list—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Stover of York—and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schmelkin of Sioux City, Ia.

Today Mrs. Robert Van Pelt will honor Mrs. Culver when she entertains a small group of guests at luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club, and this evening the visitors will again be honored when Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Misko are host and hostess at an informal affair at their home.

UNDERSTAND that Miss Kathryn Swanson will be arriving home from New York City within the next week or two for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson.

LEARNED this morning that Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Mutz, their daughter, Martha Lee Miller, and their lucky dog "Happy" are vacationing at Shell Lake, Wis.

AND THE Robert Guenzels—Mr. and Mrs. and their family—are now having a holiday at the Guenzel summer cottage on Lake L'Hon-medieu, Alexandria, Minn.

SOMEONE told us, too, that Mr. and Mrs. John Mason are back in town after a brief holiday at Meeker Park, Colo. The Masons returned without their two young sons, however—for Jody and Jimmy elected to spend a longer time with their grandmother, Mrs. John G. Mason of Hastings, formerly of Lincoln, at her summer cottage.

BASK in town, also, are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin—their sons David, Stephen, Joe—and daughter Sally—who returned a day or so ago from Cass Lake, Minn.

HEAR THAT Dr. and Mrs. Horace V. Munger have a house guest—Mrs. Munger's sister, Mrs. J. E. Reusch of Cedar Edge, Colo. Mrs. Reusch will leave for home on Sunday and will be accompanied back to Cedar Edge by Mrs. Munger—the Munger son, Kenny, and two daughters, Myrt and Marilee—in Denver, however, the travelers will add two more small-try to the entourage—Gus and Babs Buchtel, son and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Buchtel, Mrs. Munger and the three young Mungers plan to return home just about in time for school.

Clinton PTA Board Meets

Mrs. John Moeller, president of Clinton PTA, entertained at her home Wednesday afternoon when her guests were the officers, board members and co-chairmen of the PTA. Plans for the coming year were discussed after which tea was served by the hostess.

A special guest was Miss Marie Watkins, principal of Clinton School. Recently appointed board members present included Mrs. Dallas Droud, Mrs. Lee Mullinix, Mrs. Clyde Pecht, Mrs. G. D. Crouch, Mrs. T. G. Sullivan, Mrs. Ralph Oertell, Mrs. Jack Little, Mrs. Martin Jacobs, Mrs. Willard Craft, Mrs. Wesley Reifschneider, Mrs. William Bowers, Mrs. John Kelly, Mrs. Paul Suder, Mrs. Detmer Burchard, Mrs. Emanuel Schwab, Mrs. Clarence Clemens, Mrs. Jerry Sabotka and Mrs. Carl Davis.

Has Evening Wedding

MRS. GLEN REED

At a 7:30 o'clock ceremony solemnized Saturday evening, Aug. 8, Miss Clarence Ann Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Roberts of Dorchester, became the bride of Glen Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reed of Waverly. The chancel of the Dorchester Methodist Church was appointed with lighted white candles and white gladioli for the service which was read by the Rev. Otto Quafie.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Nancy Hanna of Salem, and Mrs. Milton L. Schmidt of Grand Island, Mrs. Carl Weber presented a prelude of organ music and accompanied Lester Bevins, vocalist. Mrs. Weber also played the wedding music.

Mrs. Alden Johnson of Minden was her sister's matron of honor and wore a ballerina-length frock of pink tulle over taffeta snugly sashed with satin. Wearing identical costumes of pale blue tulle and taffeta were Miss Shirley Alexander of Oakland, the bridesmaid, and Mrs. Bob Dorsey of Crete, bridesmatron. The attendants carried nosegays of carnations and wore bonnet brims of satin and tulle to match their frocks. Miss Gretchen Sue Miller, frocked in white organdy, was the flower girl, and ringbearer was Tom Bevins, nephew of the bridegroom. White slipper satin trimmed with Venice lace fashioned the bride's period gown. A small tailored collar accented the neckline of the illusion yoke which was framed by a ruffle of the lace, and long sleeves completed the fitted bodice. Wide ruffles of the lace were repeated on the full skirt which ended in a train, and her silk illusion veil was held by a brim of scalloped lace. She carried a white Bible marked by a single white orchid.

Serving his brother as best man was Mervel Reed of Waverly, and the ushers were Alden Johnson of Minden, and Melvin Sheary of Waverly. A reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors. A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, the bride is a member of Willard sorority. Mr. Reed is a student at Nebraska Wesleyan University and is a member of Theta Chi.

New City Posts Inserted In Budget

Assistant To Erickson Included

Retention of a full time city attorney at $9,000 a year and an administrative assistant to the mayor and City Council for $6,000 a year have been placed in the city budget for the coming fiscal year.

While both posts are new in city government, the full time attorney represents an increase of only $1,140 in the overall salary budget for the legal department.

While the legal department has operated for several months now with only two instead of three part time attorneys, the current year's budget called for salary expenditures for the city attorney, deputy and assistant attorneys totaling $16,020. Under the new arrangement, one full time, one part time and one prosecuting attorney will be retained for a total of $17,160.

It is proposed that the one part time attorney shall at least start with $5,760 a year, the salary now paid City Attorney John H. Comstock. The city prosecutor will receive $200 a month to start.

Previously, the city prosecutor also served as assistant city attorney and drew a salary of $5,460 a year. The prosecutor will have no other duties under the new arrangement.

The new administrative assistant, besides acting as a department co-ordinator, said Mayor Clark Jeary, will be able to relieve City Engineer D. L. Erickson of some of his departmental duties, thus freeing him for greater concentration on the city's water expansion program.

Right now, said Jeary, it is planned that the new man will take charge of the city recreation and park departments now under Erickson. This man, he said, will also act as a co-ordinator to assure co-operation and stop overlapping between departments.

"The plan," said Jeary, "is sort of a happy medium between the existing form of government and a city manager plan." While the Council must adopt the budget Monday, no definite decision has been reached on a general salary increase for city employees or the final mill levy the city will make. Finance Director Theo Berg is now working all changes made by the Council into the budget to present a picture of funds needed to handle expenditures now contemplated.

U.S. Must Improve Farm Prop Programs—Benson

Research, Education Are Keys

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Wednesday night the government must improve farm price support programs to provide producers both adequate protection against low prices and adequate incentives to meet food demands.

But such improvements, he said, must be accompanied by further reductions in farm production costs, better quality products, and greater efforts to expand farm markets.

"To accomplish these things," Benson said, "nothing can take the place of research and education."

Geared To Market

"The agriculture of the future," he added, "must be able to use the practices best adapted to the market. It must market more effectively with less waste."

The GOP farm chief gave these views in a speech at the meeting of the American Institute of Co-Operation.

Benson said that until action can be taken to improve farm programs, he will use present programs to stabilize farm prices even though they are not fully adequate.

Excessive Markets

"We came into office at a critical time," he said. "The previous administration had called for more production each year since Korea. For the past two years it had waived the imposition of acreage allotment and marketing quotas, when, according to law, they were in order for certain crops. As a result we have to manage the fastest accumulation of excess reserves which has ever existed in the history of the farm program."

Although the present administration is not responsible for the excessive stocks, he said, it has a "tremendous job" of managing them.

"We are using—and we will continue to use—all the existing farm programs to stabilize farm prices. I am optimistic that we can, and will, manage this situation we have inherited."

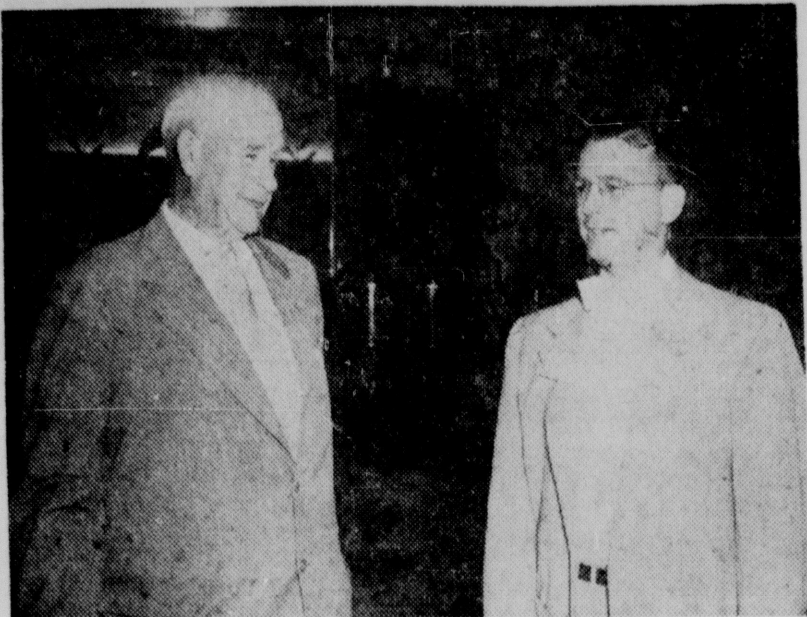

Benson urged that partisanship be kept out of consideration of the farm problem.

Older Farmers Are Paid Honor

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb.—Seven farmers and land owners, with a total of 558 years experience of on-the-farm and interest in farming operations, were honored at the Farmer's Day Barbecue here.

Those cited were: A. E. Leesley, 77, Greenwood; Joseph Miller, 77, Ft. Crook; Luke Wiles, 79, Plattsmouth; Jake Tritsch, 77, Louisville; Jake Hild, 79, Plattsmouth; Joe Wiles, 83, Plattsmouth; T. H. Pollock, 86, Plattsmouth.

The event, under the sponsorship of the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce, was attended by 1,100 farmers and their families.

Kansan Addresses Voc Ag Group

Vocational Ag Teachers Told They're Public Relations Men

"Whether you like it or not you are the public relations representative for vocational education," C. H. Miller, director of vocational education, Kansas, told 125 vocational agriculture instructors at a public relations luncheon Wednesday while attending their annual state conference at the College of Agriculture, Lincoln.

In stressing the importance of public relations he said, "Every worthwhile human activity must be constantly interpreted to the people that support it."

Everything must be constantly improved, he said. The best program today may not be the best program tomorrow.

Gov. Robert Crosby, chairman of the State Board of Vocational Education, said the state appreciates the contribution the vocational agriculture program is making toward the advancement of agriculture.

Dean W. V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture complimented the vocational agriculture instructors on their ability to encourage fine boys and girls to attend the University of Nebraska.

Merit Awards

Jesse Thurmond, chairman of the committee of public affairs of A-K-Sar-Ben, presented awards of merit for tenure of service to: Harold Vance, vocational agriculture instructor, Fairbury, with 27 years of active teaching; Glen Strain, assistant supervisor of the west area, 10 years service; Elton Reinmiller, vocational agriculture instructor, Clarkson, 10-year service; and Vernon Bachmann, vocational agriculture instructor, Holdrege, 10 years service.

Earlier, Richard Ford, University of Nebraska farm management extension specialist, told the conference that "there is no doubt in my mind that price supports are here to stay."

"There is still plenty of room for improvements in a price support program, but discarding it altogether would not be a wise alternative," he continued. "For example, if wheat farmers in

2 Give Pleas Of Innocent To Slaying Counts

HARRISON, Neb. (AP)—Two men charged with both first and second degree murder in the slaying of Edward Zamora, 45-year-old Texan, have pleaded innocent to both charges.

Benito Garcia, 28, Laredo, Tex., and Salvador Martinez Cuiteres, 24, a Mexican national, appeared in Sioux County Court. They were bound over to District Court without bail by County Judge Charlie N. Umphenour.

They are scheduled for District Court arraignment next month. Sioux County Attorney W. E. Mumby said the court will appoint a lawyer to defend the two men.

Zamora was slain during a 25-cent robbery admitted by Garcia and Cuiteres. Each accused the other of the slaying.

The first degree murder count accused each of murder and robbery. The second degree count charged the slaying alone.

Since 90 per cent of the air mail is carried on a ton-mile basis, Rep. Harrison said, if these new innovations prove successful Post Office Department officials expect a saving of about one million dollars a year.

Rev. Duensing, Nebraska City, To Mark 50th Year In Ministry

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—Sunday will mark the 50th year in the ministry for the Rev. George Duensing, Nebraska City, who has spent the entire 50 years preaching in the Nebraska Synod.

The Rev. Duensing has been pastor of the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed Church in Nebraska City the past 28 years. He was graduated from Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., and Eden Theological Seminary at St. Louis, Mo.

In August, 1903, he was ordained at his home church, the Bethel Evangelical Church at Concordia, Mo.

His first pastorate was at the Lutheran Church in Platt Center, Neb. In 1906 he went to St. John's Church at Syracuse, where a new church and parsonage were built during his ministry.

Public sentiment aroused by World War I brought about the introduction of English language services at Friedens Church in Milford, where services had been held exclusively in German when the Rev. Duensing went there in 1911.

Eight years later he became minister of the Friedens Church at Tilden, which had been closed for some time because of the use of the German language was forbidden.

When the Rev. Duensing came to Nebraska City in 1925 his language troubles were over, for services there were being conducted in English.

Sunday school and church membership has doubled during Rev. Duensing's 28 years as pastor of the Nebraska City church.

Court Asked To Back Rate Writ Refusal

Consumers Public Power District Wednesday filed a brief with the State Supreme Court asking the court to uphold the refusal of the District Court of Lincoln County to issue a writ of mandamus directing the Nebraska Public Power System to sell power to seven members of the Nebraska League of Municipalities on a single billing basis.

A single billing basis would enable the seven league members, including Lincoln and North Platte, to get power cheaper from the Nebraska Public Power System. Defendants in the case were the Loup River Public Power District and the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

'Front Man'
The Consumers brief declared "the trick of using the league as a 'front man' runs afoul of the legal rule prohibiting the delegation of discretionary power by municipalities."

In a brief on a cross appeal, Consumers argued that the Lincoln County District Court erred in not expressly holding in its judgment that Consumers was entitled to intervene in the case.

The appeal on the mandamus refusal by Judge L. J. Nisley was made by the League of Municipalities.

The cross appeal brief was filed by Consumers in the event the Supreme Court should not uphold the refusal of the writ of mandamus.

Davis Won't Push For Amended Tax Returns

Citizens who have owned stock in domesticated corporations during the past three years have been asked by State Tax Commissioner Norris Anderson to inform their county assessor of this fact.

However, Assessor Arthur M. Davis expects no rush of Lancaster County shareholders to his office to file amended personal tax schedule for the years 1951, 1952 or 1953.

"We will be pleased to help anyone file an amended return," said Davis, although doubting many will be moved to do so by the tax commissioner's appeal.

In addition to pointing out that the shareholders have "both a legal and moral obligation" to inform their assessors of this fact, Anderson said that by law county assessors are to add this property to tax returns of the citizens.

"If the tax commissioner furnishes this office with a list of holders of domesticated foreign stock for those years, we will make the necessary adjustment to all schedules," said Assessor Davis.

But he likened finding individual shareholders to searching for a needle in a haystack. "I don't intend to penalize a few without a blanket list."

For 30 years foreign domesticated stocks had been individually exempt. In 1951, the attorney general held shareholders would have to pay tax. This opinion was upheld in a Supreme Court ruling. Then the 1953 Legislature put things back where they were.

But the new law does not apply to taxes for the years 1951 to 1953.

Murtys Set Hot Pace At Fairgrounds

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Wayne and Duane Murty, the twin apprentices who are rated top choices to take jockey honors at the current Nebraska State Fair race meeting, lived up to an otherwise dull program at the Fairgrounds track Wednesday with some riding just short of sensational.

The 17-year-old brothers rode

THE FIRING LINE

by Norris Anderson
THE STAR SPORTS EDITOR

Along with a steady diet of crowds in the 2,000 region, there's another foreign substance loose at Sherman Field this summer.

It's a well-operated concessions department.

The hot dogs have been hot, and the buns have been fresh. The pop has been cold and the service has been deluxe.

In other years, when a chain outfit was running the Sherman Field concessions, there were many complaints. On a sweltering night, the outfit would run out of pop during the early innings. On chilly nights, it was a cinch to run out of coffee.

Now that the Chiefs own their own concessions, the operation has run smoothly.

A large measure of credit must go to Curtis Wheeler, manager of Sherman Field concessions.

Curt is a hard-working chap, always on the job and always searching for ways to improve the service.

In other years, when buns were left over, they were kept and used the next evening. Not now. Curt throws away the oldies and demands fresh buns each evening.

It's little things like that which add up to a good concessions operation.

"We've found it doesn't pay to cut corners," says Curt. "If the customer pays for a hot dog, we figure he's paid for the best and freshest we can give him."

As many as 500 hot dogs, 400 sacks of peanuts and 60 cases of pop have been sold in a single night.

Some fans figure a baseball game without peanuts is like pork without beans or ham without eggs. Others say the same thing about hot dogs, cokes or coffee.

The toughest customers to please are the small fry, says Curt.

"They purchase a hot dog with all the caution that a grown up would buy a new car," says Wheeler. "And they are liable to change their minds two or three times."

A small customer started out wanting a hot dog, then switched to (1) an ice cream bar, then (2) a sack of popcorn and, finally, to (3) a bag of peanuts.

"After trying up a clerk for 10 minutes, he then discovered he was five cents short and had to go make a touch on his parents'."

Along with two girls in the booths, there are between six to 15 vendors busy nightly in the stands. Among the vendors are such industries like Mike Wilhelm, Don Triple, Ron and Ken Yakel and Gene Kobzava.

Best of all, the profits go directly into the Chiefs' independently-operated club.

A vastly-improved operation and more profits for the club—that's an ideal situation.

Pity the poor umpire.

Keith Myers, target of many good-natured Sherman Field jibes, has been fired from the Western League staff.

The reason? He swore at a fan in Wichita the other night. "What did the fan do? Merely threw a lighted cigarette in Myers' face!"

For his profanity, Myers was booted out of the league. Doesn't seem quite fair.

Cockell Could Defeat Marciano, Says Hurlley

SEATTLE (AP)—Jack Hurlley opined Wednesday that Don Cockell, the British Empire heavyweight champion, "can best Rocky Marciano."

18th Victory By League's Top Hurler Takes Series

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

A grand-slam home run by Jack (Hercules) Caro and a workmanship three-hitter by Norm (The Old Smoothie) Brown guided the Lincoln Chiefs to a 5-0 triumph over the hated Omaha Cardinals at Sherman Field Wednesday night.

Smooth as satin after a jittery start, the shrewd 34-year-old Brown soon found his old magic and became the first Western League pitcher to win 18 games.

In winning his 10th straight victory, Brown showed his usual ability to shift gears according to the batter. He had a one-hitter going into the ninth when Omaha landed a single and a double.

Lincoln now embarks on a nine-game eastern road trip, starting at Sioux City tonight with Andrew Bush (7-8) on the mound.

The Chiefs leave behind a 3-3 mark for the current home stand, including a 3-1 grab of the Omaha Series.

After walking five men during the first three innings, Brown began nipping the corners. Omaha then became boys facing a man.

Successive singles by Red McQuillen, Jack Caro and Walt Linden produced a run in the fourth.

The bases were loaded in the fifth after Danny Holden and Moose Womack had walked and McQuillen had darted a double into left. The 19-year-old Caro, a skinny kid who looks like an appetite in search of a good meal, was at the plate.

In came one of Admiral Paul Dewey's fast balls and Jack put all of his 15 pounds into the swing. The ball soared over the left field fence to the right of the scoreboard, a tour of some 340 feet.

As a crowd of 1,564 gave a standing and howling ovation, Caro chased his three mates home.

Manager George Kissell of the Cards, who has been running pitchers in relays during the series, was out of mound fuel this trip. Admiral Dewey, his ship scuttled by Caro's grand-slammer and a 10-hit Lincoln attack, had to go down with the sinking craft.

Kissell's strategy reared up and struck him in the face, too, on Caro's feat. He had ordered Womack walked intentionally in order to load the bases and gamble for the double play or force at home.

After the homer, Kissell didn't even show up to coach at third base. A player attended to the chores as the boss sat glowering in the dugout.

McQuillen's pair of fierce doubles and a single added further muscle to the Chiefs' attack.

Lincoln went over the 60,000 attendance mark and now are within 1,000 of the 1952 seasonal total. To hit the 100,000 goal, the Chiefs must average 2,623 over the remaining 15 nights.

Along with three zippy double plays by the Chiefs, a putout in the second inning in which six Lincoln men handled the ball was a sidelight. It went 2-5-6-3-1-4 and resembled a combination tennis and volleyball match.

The Chiefs return to Sherman Field, Aug. 20, against Des Moines for a home stay that lasts until the home season ends, Sept. 2.

Omaha's fielding gem was Lee's against-the-fence catch of Moose Womack's towering fly in the seventh.

Benson Wins Legion Midget Tournament

GRAND ISLAND (AP)—Benson Lions of Omaha won the State Legion midget baseball title here Wednesday night blasting Grand Island, 1

Lions Favored In Grid Test

Pro Defense Said To Be Too Tough

CHICAGO (P)—The Professional Football League's Wednesday were rated a two-touchdown favorite over Bobby Dodd's collegians in the all-star football game at Soldier Field Friday night.

As generally the case since the mid-summer grid spectacle was inaugurated in 1934, the bet-makers favor the representative of the National Football League on the theory the spirited collegians cannot whip up a sound offense in three weeks of practice.

The huge Lions are expected to choke the thrusts of such collegiate runners as Buck McPhail of Oklahoma, Gib Dawson of Texas, Johnny Olszewski of California, Don McAuliffe of Michigan State, Billy Reynolds of Pittsburgh and Andy Kozar of Tennessee.

That may leave the best bet for a seventh collegiate victory against 11 pro triumphs and two ties hinging on the throwing arms of Maryland's Jack Scarbath, Illinois' Tommy O'Connell and Purdue's Dale Samuels.

A couple of lightning payoff passes from this trio to an array of receivers including ends Bernie Flowers of Purdue, Harry Babcock of Georgia and Paul Dekker of Michigan State seems the biggest threat to the well-balanced Lions.

A near capacity crowd of 91,000 is expected to jam the huge stadium on Chicago's lake front. Other millions will watch and hear the game on television (Dumont) and radio (Mutual). This includes WOWT and KOLN in Nebraska.

The contest ceremonies include the halftime prancing of the Kilgore College rangers and the spot-lighting in the darkened, cavernous arena of the individual all-stars in pre-game introductions.

Coach Dodd, the easy Georgia Tech mentor, reports his collegians are in tip-top physical condition. It is the second straight year at the all-star helm for Dodd, whose 1952 aggregation put up a rousing scrap before losing to the Los Angeles Rams, 10-7.

Gil Turner Scores Knockout Win Over Ramon Fuentes

NEW YORK (P)—Gil Turner, gunning for another title shot at Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, knocked out Ramon Fuentes with one terrific right hand punch to the jaw Wednesday night in 2:49 of the fifth round at Madison Square Garden. Turner weighed 151½, Fuentes 151.

It was the second time the 27-year-old Los Angeles battler had been stopped in 24 starts and he had gone the route with Gavilan in a non-title bout at Milwaukee July 15 although dropped for a nine-count in the seventh round.

Fuentes, a stubborn opponent who was ranked No. 8 among the welter contenders, gave Turner a tough time until he was flattened with one punch. There never was any question about Fuentes being out. He didn't stir while referee Ruby Goldstein counted the full 10 over him.

It was the 39th victory and 20th knockout in 42 pro starts for the 22-year-old Philadelphia Negro.

Coming over a man who went the distance with the champ, the sudden knockout was a big boost to Turner's claim to another championship bout.

Fred Wyant, West Virginia's freshman quarterback last season, was the quarterback when the Mountaineers scored all their 35 touchdowns.

Leo Handed 2-Year Pact With Giants

NEW YORK (P)—Speculation over Leo Durocher's future in baseball came to an end Wednesday with the announcement he would continue to manage the New York Giants through 1955.

The fate of the fiery little skipper had become a chief topic of discussion following the Giants' dismal western trip in which they lost 12 out of 15 games, dropped into the second division and almost completely out of the National League pennant race.

Club President Horace Stoneham declined to disclose the salary but said it was the same Durocher is receiving this year.

State Business Surges Upward; Hikes General

Business in Nebraska flexed its muscles in June and showed a strong movement upward, according to the August issue of Business in Nebraska, a business survey bulletin prepared by the University of Nebraska's College of Business Administration.

"For the first time in months every city reporting showed an increase in general business over a year ago," the bulletin said. "Our prosperity keeps rolling back on us like waves at the seashore."

The optimistic report showed that every type of activity increased in comparison with 1952, ranging from 4.2 per cent for retail sales to 12.4 per cent for building activity.

Rehearing Is Requested In Phone Boost

The Jefferson County Farmers Union and Farmers Educational and Co-operative State Union Wednesday asked the State Railway Commission to grant a rehearing in the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Company rate increase case.

The commission last week granted the telephone company increases ranging from 25 cents to 65 cents per month on residence telephones and 35 cents to $2.65 on business service.

Also granted were rural rate increases from 25 to 60 cents. Long distance charges were increased from 5 cents for initial calls for shorter mileages and up to 25 cents for longer person to person calls.

Atty. George Skultety of Fairbury, for the farm group said in his rehearing request that the commission had not granted "a fair hearing" on the issue of extended toll free service and had erred in "refusing" to take into consideration the fact that stockholders of the common were making earnings of "9.6 to 18.3 per cent" on the book value of their common stock.

Six Local Presbyterian Delegates Set Departure

Six delegates from the First Presbyterian Church will leave Monday to attend the 55th annual National Youth Convention of the United Presbyterian Church in New Wilmington, Pa.

Attending are: Barbara Binning, Joan Fahrenbruch, Jane Johnson, Gretchen Paul, Barbara Shull, Jack Rogers.

One feature of the five-day convention, to be held on the campus of Westminster College, will be the national Bible reading contest. Miss Johnson and Rogers, winners of the local and presbytery contests, will represent Nebraska in their respective age groups.

The Lincoln delegation will be among about 15 Nebraskans attending the conference.

Retail Sales Good

"In comparison with May of this year, gas usage was down seasonally and newspaper advertising was off a little, but here also the picture was one of good business," the bulletin pointed out.

The retail sales situation in June was called "particularly good, especially since it did not, as often, depend upon automobile sales to bring it up. Auto sales were up over 1952, but less than the general average. Every type of sales showed a rise except fuel and ice."

Although Nebraska as a whole showed an increase in retail sales, a few cities—Chadron, Omaha and Nebraska City—experienced a slight decrease over June, 1952. Reporting more than a 10 per cent increase were Scottsbluff, Beatrice, Hastings and Lincoln.

Rail Agency Service Drop At Exeter Okayed

The State Railway Commission Wednesday granted the Chicago and North Western Railroad permission to close its agency service at Exeter and substitute caretaker service and make Exeter a prepay station.

The Exeter Chamber of Commerce recently wrote the commission saying it had no objection to the change.

Also granted Wednesday was permission for the Union Pacific to discontinue agency service and close its station at Hayland, Neb.

Budget Director Orders Big Chop In Expenditures

...Dropping Of Some 'Activities' Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—A slash in the federal budget for the next fiscal year has been ordered by Budget Director Joseph Dodge.

Officials disclosed Wednesday that Dodge has sent a letter to all U.S. agencies directing them to come up with budget estimates showing cuts at least as great as the Eisenhower administration made for this year.

This would mean that spending in the next year, which begins July 1, 1954, would have to be reduced about 4½ billion dollars below this year's estimated outgo.

The new administration cut spending estimates of the Truman administration for the present year from $78,600,000,000 to $74,100,000,000. If a similar cut is made next year, the estimates would go down to around $69,600,000,000.

Long Lag
The Eisenhower administration and Congress reduced appropriation requests by about 13 billion dollars below the approximately 73 billion proposed by Truman. It was not clear from

Lincoln Marine, 19, Is Injured When .45 Pistol Explodes

Pfc. Richard J. Campbell, 19-year-old Lincoln Marine, received a severe facial injury when a .45 caliber pistol he was checking exploded in his face.

His mother, Mrs. Mary Campbell of 2009 West O, said he had served two months on the front lines in Korea without an injury.

She learned of the accident in a special delivery letter from her son stationed somewhere near Seoul. Sgt. Campbell said he was being transferred to a hospital ship for plastic surgery.

Mrs. Haley Rites Will Be Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Haley, 79, of 1616 M., will be held at 9 a.m. Friday at St. Mary's Cathedral, Msgr. C. J. Riordan officiating.

Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Roberts Mortuary. Burial will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery at Davey.

Surviving are a son, Edwin Bell of Lincoln; four sisters, Mrs. E. D. Derieg and Grace McGerr, both of Lincoln; Claire McGerr of Omaha, and Mrs. Charles H. Wallick of Hollywood, Calif.; three brothers, R. A. and George L. McGerr, both of Lincoln, and E. B. McGerr of Davey; five grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

County's 11th Polio Case Is Reported

Lancaster County's 11th polio case of 1953 was reported Wednesday.

Terry Lesong, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lesong of 216 No. Burlington, was hospitalized at St. Elizabeth's. He is in "good" condition, according to the physician's report, although the type of polio has not been diagnosed.

Morris Siegel, county chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said none of the cases this year has been serious.

In contrast with the 11 county cases of polio in 1953, there were 65 at this time last year.

Dodge's letter whether he meant that both spending and appropriations must be cut as much next year as this, or whether his principal emphasis was on spending. Figures for spending and appropriations do not coincide, because in many cases there is a long lag between the time funds are voted and the time they are actually spent.

Dodge's directive, dated July 9, also called on agency heads to chop expenditures now and continue reductions month by month.

As for next year's budget, he outlined several possible ways of making savings, including:

Get the federal government out of "activities that can more appropriately be carried on in some other way."

Labor Group Asks Increase In State Pay

The State Federation of Labor, headed by Gordon Preble of Omaha, made a personal appeal to Gov. Robert Crosby asking for blanket $25 increases for state employees.

The wage boosts, according to Preble, would go to some 6,000 to 7,000 employees and would amount to a total increase of $1.8 million a year. Academically employed, such as school instructors, would not be included.

Gov. Robert Crosby said after the meeting, however, that no such increases had been provided for in the two-year budget. The governor said representatives of the Federal, State, County, and Municipal Employees Association had talked with state department heads and had been told the governor's policy of "restraint" should be followed.

The governor said he would consider the matter. The labor group cited the all-time high in the cost of living and the high turnover of state employees "who were finding better paying jobs." An example given was a field mechanic job for the state in North Platte which had changed hands six times in the past nine months.

The federation noted that University of Nebraska non-academic employees got wage increases of eight per cent that helped, but that more was needed for other state employees. Preble pointed to the high competition for state employees by private industry as one reason for granting the raises.

Laniel Refuses To Kill Economy Decrees

PARIS (P)—Premier Joseph Laniel told French labor Wednesday night he will not be pressured by any special interests into revoking his economy decrees and will oppose the nationwide strike movement to the finish.

In a radio address to the country on the seventh day of a strike wave which involves at least a million workers and threatens to send two million more out Thursday in protest against his economy program, Laniel said: "The organs of the state and the public services are sacred in the degree to which they symbolize the indispensable solidarity of the body social. Face to face with the strike which seeks to paralyze everything, I thus categorically answer, no, I say no to the strike, I say no to the pressure moves, direct or indirect, which have been imposed on the government; I say no to the accumulation of discomfort which those who are striking forget they are inflicting on the more numerous who are not on strike."

A few hours before Laniel's speech, the government pressed policemen, soldiers and convicts into service to deliver letters, drive busses and collect rubbish.

Laniel said the walkouts have disgusted foreign tourists, impoverished French business, weakened the franc and "retarded by that much the possibility of generous social measures."

Publication Monday of the first 19 of his economy decrees gave the impetus to a new wave of walkouts in the wake of some which had been called in anticipation of his decision.

Strikes are crippling gas and electric supplies, railroads, coal mines, shipping, the health services, subway and municipal bus systems and postal, telegraph and telephone services. Air France planes, lacking service crews, failed to make some flights Wednesday.

The new strikes have been called in metal working industries, government offices, banks, insurance companies, business enterprises, social security and in the liberal professions.

Gov. Crosby To Review Guard Units

Gov. Robert Crosby was sharpening up on his manual of arms Wednesday in preparation to leaving Thursday noon for Governor's Day at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Governors of State National Guard units represented will take part in an all-camp passing in review of the thousands of guardsmen taking part in the yearly exercises at Camp McCoy. Gov. Crosby is expected to return to desk duty sometime Friday.

It will be the first visit of Governor Crosby to the state militia encampment. Both Crosby and Iowa's Gov. Beardsley will address the troops.

Heading the list of military dignitaries will be one of Iowa's most famous soldiers, Lt. Gen. Matthew Tinley of Council Bluffs.

Gen. Tinley, doctor, soldier and statesman, is being flown to Camp McCoy by special plane. Many of the men who will honor him are the sons and grandsons of men he led in the Philippine, Mexican Border and World War I campaigns.

He is a former division commander, former commander of the Iowa American Legion, and twice declined to be a candidate for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination.

Other distinguished guests from Nebraska expected are: Lt. Gov. Charles Warner of Nebraska; Maj. Gen. Butler B. Miltenberger (retired), North Platte, former regimental commander and chief of the National Guard Bureau; Nebraska State Senator Herbert Duls of Gothenburg; and Col. John Dey of Omaha, chief of the Nebraska Military District.

The grand finale of the two week encampment will have a special meaning for one young guardsman in the group, 17 year old Pfc. Patrick Dennis Kilbane of Company E, 168th Regiment, Shenandoah.

Young Kilbane will have a reunion with his father, Sgt. Patrick Kilbane of Shenandoah, who recently returned from service in Korea and was met in Seattle by Iowa's Gov. Beardsley.

Sgt. and Mrs. Kilbane will be aboard Beardsley's National Guard plane when he leaves Thursday for Camp McCoy. The visit of the parents was planned as a special event of the encampment. Kilbane had been designated to represent Iowa returns in connection with the national Governor's Conference ceremonies.

Milk Hearing Brings Good Representation

A routine hearing on a new provision in state laws governing Grade A milk came off without incident Wednesday but with an unusually large representation from state milk producers.

State Agricultural Director Ed Hoyt explained the hearing, which was more like an informal conference, was directed by a recently enacted state law making hearings necessary before new rulings go into effect. Actually, Hoyt said, Grade A laws have been in effect the past two years, but recent publication of such laws by the federal Public Health Service required making state laws official.

About 25 out-state representatives showed up for the hearing, during which no objections were posed against the laws and only clarifications of wording was ironed out.

Gould Flagg of the Dairy Division said the new official laws will make application of Grade A milk rules easier. He said that now if Nebraska should accumulate a surplus of milk, the certification will make it easier for the milk to be exported from the state.

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

My neighbors have a letter from their son in the Navy which says: "The first WAVE has arrived aboard ship, please send my after-shave lotion and my summer tux."

The idea of girls sailing the ships of our Navy is not new, but this time it's legal.

There was a story years ago about a battle-wagon skipper who found a girl aboard his ship and he says: "Who are you and where did you come from?" She says: "I'm a mermaid and I come from Brooklyn... why?"

But now we are to have members of the WAVES on our ships... so far the allotment is one girl for each 63 ships and if that doesn't bring a demand for transfers nothing will.

In fact we could save money... one girl per submarine and they could cut out that extra pay the submariners get for submarining.

589 Names Added to Final Big Korean Casualty Report

25,542 Are Listed Dead

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Defense Department's final big casualty report for the Korean War added 589 American names to the list of battle losses Wednesday and brought the total for the 37-month conflict to 142,294.

The new summary places U. S. dead at 25,542, with 103,513 recorded as wounded, 2,835 missing and known to be prisoners and 8,670 missing and unaccounted for. An additional 1,734 men who were missing have returned to duty.

Spokesmen said that about 100 or more casualties remain to be reported, after the notification of relatives which usually takes two to three weeks.

The 589 casualties announced Wednesday compared with 1,159 for the previous week, reflecting the gradual tapering off since the armistice became effective. The week's total included 108 dead, 475 wounded and six missing.

The near-final summary showed that the U. S. Army has suffered the overwhelming brunt of the casualties during the war. The Army total now stands at 110,616, including 20,842 dead, 78,276 wounded, 2,694 prisoners and 7,177 missing and unaccounted for.

Another 1,627 previously listed as missing by the Army have been returned to duty and 44 Marines are in a similar category.

The Marine Corps, which joined the Army in ground fighting during the early stages of the conflict, has suffered 28,069 casualties, including 3,763 dead and 23,615 wounded. The Marines list 510 men as missing and 137 known to be prisoners.

By comparison, the Air Force has reported only 1,528 casualties and the Navy 2,081. The Air Force lists 544 known dead and 47 wounded, but 881 who crashed or bailed out over enemy territory are missing and unaccounted for. The Navy has had 393 men killed in action, 1,575 wounded and 102 missing and unaccounted for.

For the entire war, U.S. casualties averaged approximately 1,000 a week, and were about 85 per cent of those suffered by non-Korean troops on the United Nations side.

Army estimates place Communist battle casualties at more

AFL Council Asks 12 1/2 Million Homes

CHICAGO (AP)—The AFL executive council Wednesday called for a six-year government-aided program to build 12 1/2 million new dwellings is a "conservative" estimate.

If the required homes are to be built to take care of the expected population increase by 1960, the council said, construction will have to average more than 2 million units a year. This compares with a record of only 1,400,000 produced in 1950 and an average of 1,100,000 during the 1951-1953 period.
